What a Start to the New Year

Well, to say this is not how I saw the New Year starting is an understatement. As I am sure you are aware I have been absent from school the last two weeks due to a sudden illness that required me to be admitted to the hospital for five days and undergo two surgeries. I was discharged from the hospital this past Sunday and now spending time to recover. I hope to return to class on Monday, January 30th but do plan to stop by school on Thursday to check in and say “Hi” to the students. I know for them it has been a bit of a transition and Mr. Erickson has been keeping me aware of what is happening in class. I really appreciate the flexibility of the students and other teachers during this difficult time. I sincerely want to thank those of you who reached out to me with your good wishes. It means a great deal and has made the healing process easier.

Mr. J. Williams

Progress Reports

Progress reports will be coming home on Thursday. Please sign and return with your student on Friday. As always grades are always available on the Parent Portal online so there should be no surprises. I am going to ask that you please sign and return just the bottom portion of the progress report and keep the top half for your records.

Book Order

Any Book Orders that were due prior to my absence need to be turned by Thursday to be processed. I do have those that were turned in or submitted online. I will pick up any remaining Book Orders on Thursday and get them processed. Please remind the students to bring them on Thursday.

Student of the Month

There is a Student of the Month assembly scheduled for this Friday, but since I will not be able to attend those students receiving the award will be recognized at next month’s award assembly.
